DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group III (claims 12-15) in the reply filed on 6/24/10 is acknowledged.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the word "said" is used in line 4. Further, the Abstract should be rewritten to better reflect the subject matter now being prosecuted in independent Claim 12 (instead of withdrawn Claim 1).

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 14, and 20-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. In claim 14, "the holders" lacks prior antecedent basis.

7. In claim 20, it is unclear exactly what is being claimed (exactly what are the metes and bounds) by the phrase "according to directions obtained and determined after expertise".

8. In claim 21, "the climate conditions" lacks prior antecedent basis. Further in both Claims 21 and 22, it is unclear whether applicant is claiming an apparatus or a method since both are recited in the claim. Based on the preamble, and dependency on claim 15, for the purposes of this Action, Claim 21 is considered to be an apparatus claim and the method steps in claims 21-25 have not been considered. Claims 23-25 depend from claims 21 and 22.

9. In claim 26, "at least one of compartments and nests" lacks prior antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

10. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

11. Claims 12, 14-20 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hebrank (6427844). Hebrank discloses an apparatus for measuring, with infrared thermometers (37), temperatures of hatching eggs placed in nests of hatching trays which are arranged in an incubator; each individual thermometer contactlessly measures the temperature of a corresponding individual egg at regular points in time according to a pre-entered measurement scheme, wherein the measuring signals obtained control a temperature control regulation (col. 14, lines 56-61); wherein the apparatus comprises a robot to automatically position the thermometers near the eggs; wherein the control model comprises an algorithm; and wherein the hatching out is controlled in by classification, sorting, and subsequent treatment by inoculation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

12. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3644

13. Claims 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hebrank ('844). Although Hebrank discloses that the thermometers (37) are calibrated, it is not specifically disclosed that they are in different hatching chambers. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide that the sensors be calibrated in different chambers based on various stages of development of the eggs. As for claim 28, the specific number of eggs being examined would have been obvious depending on the size of the tray, or how many one wished to evaluate at one time as a matter of preference, and as a function of availability.

Allowable Subject Matter

14. Claim 13 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

15. Claims 21-26 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
